

HPV Vaccine

There is a vaccine now available to prevent Human Papilloma Virus (HPV) strains that are associated with genital warts and cervical cancer. The vaccine is recommended for all girls/women from the age of 11 to 26. The vaccine (Gardasil) is given as a three shot series over six months.

Please refer to ACOG Patient Education website http://www.acog.org/publications/patient_education/bp167.cfm