

Urinary Incontinence

Urinary incontinence is a common problem for women that has many causes and has numerous treatments available. This may be a mild problem for some women and a severe problem for other women. Treatment may be with medicine, surgery, behavior therapy, physical therapy and many others. The physicians at Tulsa OB/GYN are trained in the treatment of incontinence and want to help patients to be dry. Women with this problem desiring improvement should contact the office to schedule an appointment for evaluation.
