

PLACENTA ABRUPTION

A serious cause for bleeding late in pregnancy, occurring when the placenta prematurely detaches from the inner lining of the uterus. This is usually accompanied by abdominal pain. This condition can lead to other serious problems.

You should report ALL BLEEDING to your doctor.