

STRETCH MARKS

There is really nothing that can be done to avoid stretch marks. Stretch marks may appear on breasts, buttocks, and lower abdomen. Moisturizing creams do little because the “stretch mark” is caused by the breakdown of elastic tissue right below the skin’s surface. Stretch marks usually fade and become less noticeable after pregnancy.